B	I	N	G	O
		Free Space

Use the template above to create your own BINGO game. You will need to make a different card for each player, moving the words around within the column so that no two cards are the same. Duplicate cards will mean you will have more than one winner.

For the simplest way to make your cards, photocopy the template. Ask a volunteer to legibly write in the words on all the cards. If you have access to a computer you can make a card using the TABLE function in either Microsoft Word or Publisher. You will still need to create a different card for each player. Duplicate the drawing cards on the next page and cut them apart. You will draw one card at a time and can play regular BINGO—up, down, or diagonal—or one of several variations—four in the corner, X, fill the card, etc.

Note: There are a few websites that offer software to create your own BINGO games and are free or of little cost. Use your search engine to search for: Make Your Own Bingo Game.
